Some of the new sleeves are capped and gathered or shirred under the cap and at the elbows and wrists. In fact, the "bishop" tendency is marked.

The monotonous black veil is having a rest, and those of deep violet, powder blue, bottle green, prune and seal are chosen by the smartest dressers.

For evening wear, satins of more or less lustre are holding on tenaciously and may go through the winter for that purpose as a favorite material.

The new coiffure is all a-bristle with shell pins and combs, and those for evening wear are richly decorated with inlaid metal and sunken jewels.

Bows of tulle with brilliant buckles and long, narrow, severely plain bows of more ribbon are considered quite the proper thing for tailored shirtwaists.
